

2001 Flower Festival

In 2001 the festival was held on 25 - 29 August. The theme was Derbyshire characters that have affected our lives. The displays, created by many adults and children from Monyash and the surrounding villages, depicted the lives of Florence Nightingale, Thomas Cook, the Manners family, Alison Uttley and others.

The picture opposite shows a display dedicated to William Mompesson, who was the Rector of Eyam at the time of the Plague.
